

BAKER ANIMAL CLINIC
Pain Management Package

To Our Valued Client:

The Staff here at Baker Animal Clinic cares not only about the care and comfort your pet receives here at our hospital, but also the care and comfort they receive at home.

Over the past few years, we have been learning through research, that even though your pet has a higher threshold for pain than you do, they still experience it to a great degree.

Although your hugs and kisses are a wonderful therapy for their heart, we now have a state of the art medication for their pain.

Technology has expanded to such a level that we are now able to administer pain medication to your pet during and after surgery to relieve them of any discomfort they are feeling while in the hospital. This is a pain medication that you as a human, would receive from your doctor. We then will dispense some medication for you to administer to your pet at home. Pain relief is important, and that's why our doctors emphasize pain management.

Thank you for your business!
